

タイトル

This image shows a template for handwriting practice. It consists of eight identical vertical columns arranged side-by-side. Each column is composed of six rectangular boxes stacked vertically. Within each box, there are two horizontal lines: a solid blue line at the top and a dashed blue line in the middle, leaving an open space at the bottom for writing. The entire grid is enclosed in a double-line border.